VOL. XVIII.

THE LAST DAY'S SPORT.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND PREPARING TO RETURN HOME.

McClure's One Very Fine Trout and is Presented With Another One—How the Party Will Return to Washington—A Short Stop to Be Made at Albany to Breakfast.

PROSPECT HOUSE, UPPER SARANAC LAKE, N.Y., June 8.—The president's last fishing day in the Adirondacks was a delightful one. He started off with Dr. Rosman about nine o'clock, leaving Colonel Lamont to enjoy a day of idleness at the cottage and to pay some attention to the needless restoration of his greatly sun-burned, fly-bitten and swollen countenance. The president trudged industriously, sleeping only for lunch, until after sunset, but caught only one three-pounder and missed a "gril" that promised to result in the killing of the biggest fish he has yet taken. Mrs. Cleveland and Mrs. Lamont, in one boat, and Mr. Rosman in another, went out just before sunset and met the returning fishermen about three miles from the landing. The four boats were paddled back abreast of each other and with little clouds of attending black flies hovering over each of their occupants.

On his arrival, the president was presented with a fine twelve pound trout caught in Long pond by Mr. E. A. Crukshank, a veteran visitor to the lakes and mountains. The fish will be taken by the president to Albany and presented to his friend, Dr. Ward. Arrangements for departure tomorrow are about as decided upon yesterday. The only variation to be made will be an earlier start than was at first intended, so as to give the party a rest and a comfortable dinner at Paul Smith's before taking the second stage of the journey of nine miles in packboats. The ride to the railroad station is twenty-six miles long and will be accomplished in about three hours. The stay in Albany, which will be reached early Friday morning, will be one of three hours only, the president's programme allowing him only sufficient time to breakfast with Governor Hill before resuming his journey to Washington.

RATHER CROWDED.

Three Million People Packed Within Ten Miles of the New York City Hall.

NEW YORK, June 8.—There are as many people living within a radius of ten miles of the city hall, as there were in the thirteen American colonies at the outbreak of the revolution. Sociability, such as is known to your eyes, but to a limited extent among the rich, if you drop out of your immediate circle, is soon forgotten, and you may live for years within a half mile of former associates without meeting them except by accident. Like the lobster, who grows a new claw in place of one lost by accident, your claws supplies your place with someone else, and you have to be a pretty big personage in it or you never will be missed should you stay away from it. An instance of this was when I was in New York last night, and the evidence of this fact, but to me it had any singular amusing phase. Two old acquaintances who had drifted apart, met on Broadway. "Hello, Bill!" says Tom. "How do you know all the folks? You must have been pretty busy lately. I haven't seen you for months." "I should say you had not," was the response. "I moved to Chicago ten years ago, and I only got back last month." Do you any fun in that? Think of any of the Clever or Stylius boys meeting like that a decade from now. You have got to trot not only in, but with your class here, or be dismissed. The flag falls on you very quickly, too.

DISMISSED FROM SERVICE.

The Only Colored Man in the Signal Service Discharged.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—W. H. Green, the only colored man ever added to the signal service, has been dismissed from that service without character. The only significance in this order lies in the fact that he is a colored man and is the man over whom General Hazen and Secretary of War Lincoln had a controversy. Green was a graduate of a New York college and was highly recommended, and the secretary overruled Hazen. Green, soon after appointment, was assigned duty at Pensacola. The sergeant in charge of the signal corps there refused to accept Green as his assistant, and he was demoted and reduced to private ranks for disobedience of orders. Green was placed in charge at Pensacola, but did not give satisfaction, either to the signal office nor to the community he served. He was sent to Rochester, N.Y., where his record has been very unsatisfactory, and it is stated that he had been a white man, his connection with the signal service would have been summarily cut short long before this, but the desire to give a command every possible indulgence, led to his retention until his own conduct necessitated his dismissal.

BOOMING BLAINE.

The New York Republican Club Say the Irish Prefer Blaine.

NEW YORK, June 8.—The Republican club of New York adopted a report this evening, with only one dissenting voice, which contained the following words:

The convention leaders of the Irish-Americans who voted for Blaine in 1884, disclose that they will again vote for him, and prefer his nomination to that of any other man.

A move was made to strike out the attempt to put Blaine in. He was voted for Blaine and would vote for him again, but he deplored any direct or indirect endorsement of a candidate in advance of the convention's action.

Mahone Chance explained that the report simply stated facts, and that the names of Foraker and Sherman were suggested to the Irish leaders. They, however, said they emphatically preferred Blaine, as the only man who had excited the disapproval of their English enemies. They did not object to Foraker and Sherman, but they preferred Blaine.

OUT ON THE OCEAN.

Mr. Blaine and Family Aboard the "Ems"—Mr. O'Brien on the Adriatic.

NEW YORK, June 8.—Mr. and Mrs. James G. Blaine and their daughters, Misses M. and H. Blaine, left the Fifth Avenue hotel shortly after five o'clock this morning, and reached North Germany at noon. At 6:30 o'clock, when they boarded the steamer Ems, which sailed for Southampton, at 7:30 o'clock, having been delayed half an hour waiting for mail pouches.

The steamer Adriatic, on which William O'Brien is a passenger, sailed at seven o'clock this morning.

Mismanagement, Not Misrepresentation.

LYNCHBURG, Va., June 8.—Charles W. Butcher, former postmaster here, published a card in the paper to charge made by the Sheet metal workers yesterday, in which he says that the failure of the latter to make a success of the Lynchburg Virginian was due to their own mismanagement and not to a misrepresentation made by him.

The Indian Troubles.

BENSON, A. T., June 8.—Thirty Indians are now stated to be on the war path, instead of seventeen, as at first reported. Their first victim was a union veteran. It is feared two men at work at Table Mountain, on the Oak Grove trail, have also fallen victims to that of auditor.

PRECAUTIONS AGAINST PLAGUES.

The Government Instructions to the Revenue Service.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Secretary Fairchild today issued a circular in regard to contagious diseases, in which he says:

In order to prevent the introduction of infectious diseases, as provided in section 4702, Revised Statutes act of April 26, 1878, and appropriate sections of the present law, it is determined to establish, by means of vessels of the revenue service, a national patrol of the coast of the United States, at points of the coast where it may be practicable under existing laws and conditions, and performance of other duties confined to that service.

The circular contains special instructions to commanding officers of revenue cutters, to cruise actively upon the outer lines of the reopening of hostilities in Kentucky's most lawless county—Rowan. Citizens of Morehead are again startled by the killing of three men. Yesterday the town marshal of Morehead, John Mannin, had a warrant for the arrest of Jack and Bill Logan, sons of the notorious Dr. Henry D. Logan, who is now in Lexington jail on the charge of murder. Mannin went to the house of the Logan boys to arrest them. An old lady told him they were not in. He told her that he would have to search the house and proceed to do so. As he ascended the stairway, the Logan boys, who were concealed above, fired upon him, inflicting fatal wounds. Mannin's pose of two men who were with him, then returned the fire of the Logan boys, killing them both. Mannin never took any part in the Martin-Tolliver feud. The Logans were active Martin supporters.

The following regulations will be observed, relative to the inspection of vessels:

If a vessel is found with sickness on board, or in a foul condition, a revenue marine officer will immediately notify the proper quarantine officer. The revenue officer will then proceed toward the vessel until the medical officers in charge of the quarantine shall have given the usual permit. Should the vessel be found to be not valid, when hauled, report can be made to the revenue officer, who will then issue a certificate, and will send her immediately to quarantine.

Quarantine affairs will be recognized as follows:

If a medical officer or acting assistant surgeon of the marine hospital service in charge of the Gulf, South Atlantic, Cape Charles, or Delaware Crookwater quarantine, or any officer of said service or of any port authority, divers, lakes, or the Pacific coast, and all quarantine officers under proper state or local authority. Special regulations to aid bad quarantine authorities will be provided.

The marine hospital bureaus, in receipt of numerous applications from the lower counties of Florida for governmental aid to prevent the spread of yellow fever and for the stationing of physicians connected with the service at points where the fever is likely to break out. These applications are evidently based on the idea that the government may be called upon to act at any time; whereas, according to the terms of appropriation, for the prevention of the spread of yellow fever, the marine hospital service can only be connected with the ports of the Pacific coast, and all quarantine officers under proper state or local authority. Special regulations to aid bad quarantine authorities will be provided.

The Test by Results.

NEW BLOOMFIELD, MISS., January 2, 1888.

I wish to say to you that I have been suffering for the last five years with a severe itching all over. I have heard of Hop Bitters and have tried it. I have used up four bottles, and it has done me more good than all the doctors and medicines that they could use on or with me. I am old and poor but feel to bless you for saving the relief from your medicine and torment of the doctors. I have seen no doctor at all. One gave me a concoction of solution of arsenic and water. I took four quarts of blood from me. All they could tell was that it was skin sickness. Now, after these four bottles of your medicine, I am well and my skin is well, clean and smooth as ever. HENRY KNOX.

GOOD WORDS—FROM GOOD AUTHORITY.

* * * We confess that we are perfectly amazed at the run of your Hop Bitters. We never had anything like it, and have sold out of the like. The writer (Benton) has been selling drugs here next to nothing, and has seen the rise and fall of Benton's. Vines, all other bitters and patent medicines, however did any of them, in their best days, begin to have the run that Hop Bitters have. * * * We can't get enough of them. We are out of them half the time. * * * From letter to Hop Bitters Co. from Benton, Myers & Co., wholesale druggists of Cleveland, O.

GOOD FOR BABIES.—We are pleased to say that our baby was permanently cured of a serious protracted irregularity of the bowels by the use of Hop Bitters by its mother, which at the same time restored her to perfect health and strength. —THE PARENTS.

The most wonderful and marvelous success is cases where persons are sick or pining away from a condition of miserableness that no one knows what sits them (profitable patients for doctors), is obtained by the use of Hop Bitters. They begin to cure from the first dose, and keep it up until perfect health and strength is restored.

Wicked for Clergymen.

"believe it to be wrong and even wicked for clergymen of either rank or no to be led into giving out such bad doctor or other false stuff called medicines but whn r really meritorious article is made up of common valuable remedies known to all, and that all physicians soon and trust in daily, we should freely commend it. I therefore cheerfully and heartily commend Hop Bitters for the good they have done me and my friends, firmly believing they have no equal for family use. I will not be without them." —Rev. E. R. WARREN, Scrip. New York.

A GOOD ACCOUNT.—"To sum it up, six long years of bedridden sickness and suffering costing $2000, and still $1,200. all of which was supplied by three bottles of Hop Bitters taken by my wife, who has done her own house-work for a year since without the loss of a day, and I want everybody to know it for their benefit."—JOHN WEEKS, Butler.

Never Forget This.

If you are sick Hop Bitters will surely aid Nature in making you well when all else fail. If you are constipated or dyspeptic, or are suffering from any one of those various diseases of the bowels or bowels, it is your own fault if you remain ill for Hop Bitters is a sovereign remedy in all such complaints.

If you are waisting away with any form of kidney disease, stop templing Death this moment, and turn for a cure to Hop Bitters.

If you are nervous use Hop Bitters.

If you are a frequenter, or a resident of a mississippi district, barricade your system against the scourge of all countries—malaria, epidemic, bilious and intermitting fevers—by the use of Hop Bitters.

If you have rough, plump or sallow skin, bad breath, painless teeth and feel miserable generally Hop Bitters will give you fair skin, brightened, sweet breath and health.

That poor, bedridden, invalid wife, sister, mother, or daughter, can be made the picture of Health with Hop Bitters, costing but a trifle.

In short they cure all diseases of the stomach, Bowels, Blood, Liver, Nerves, Kidneys, Bright's Disease. $1,000 will be paid for a case they will not cure or help.

JOHN SHERMAN'S MILD MISTAKE. From the Chicago News.

Senator John Sherman is a pretty charming politician, but he slips up once in a while. He took a walk around Springfield one day last week. A buxom young lady, holding a baby in her arms, was leaning over the gate in front of a large, fine looking residence.

"What a lovely child," exclaimed Senator Sherman, "pray, may I kiss it?"

"Certainly," said the buxom young lady, and the eminence under-gave her a baby's smack that made it pat out its upper lip and wrinkle its red face all over a howl.

"That's as fine a child as I ever saw, madam! I'll warrant you it's the picture of his father!" said the senator. "In fact, the child interests me so much that I'd like to have it for father call on me at the hotel." With this, he handed out a card.

"She's alive, sir!" cried the buxom young lady, "it hasn't got no father; this is an orphan asylum!"

In General Debility, Emaciation,

Consumption, and Wasting in Children, Scott's Emulsion is a most valuable food and medicine. It stimulates the appetite for food, strengthens the nervous system, and builds up the body. Please read: "I tried Scott's Emulsion on a young man whom Physicians at times gave up hope. Since he began using the Emulsion his Cough has ceased, gained flesh and strength, and from all appearance his life will be prolonged many years." —JOHN BULLIVAN, Hospital steward, Morganza, Pa.

COLORED FACES.

Is the Pure Negro Race Doomed?—Study of an Interesting Social Problem. From the New York Sun.

ARREVILLE, S. C., June 4.—When I first put the pen upon this paper my impulse was to write at the head "black" instead of colored faces. But what is regarded as an emblem by many is in reality the most exact form of speech, if words are meant to describe the objects to which they refer. Go into any large assembly of people in the south and see how many genuine negroes are among them. They are almost as scarce as the red Indians, who once roved over these fields, and whose only memorials now are the queer stone structures that they built and the faint arrowheads that are ploughed up occasionally in the fields. To a European, accustomed only to the pink-white skin of the Caucasian race, the idea of a negro is as foreign as any of the shades of color as negroes it must be a very perplexing study. Almost black, dark brown, brown, light brown, dark yellow, yellow, light yellow, pearl, pale pearl, light pearl—this represents the scale, so far as words can do it, if one can only imagine about a thousand shades between each of these divisions; but I despair of giving an idea of the wonderous variety, and even of the shifting shades of any individual face. I have seen a face changing its shade slowly from dark brown to a most glaring yellow, according as the emotions of the heart swayed the frame for the person, being a powerfully moved, just as a white man turns a deathly white when overtaken by some sudden and unexpected joy or disaster.

Take up the last census. It shows you so many whites, so many negroes. The numbers do not matter here, but one fact has been ascertained. The colored people, so far from dying out, are actually on the increase. Yet there is one thing which the census cannot, by its very nature, consider; and that is the as astonishing variety of the shades referred to, all of which hangs together under the head of "colored." This can only be done by estimation; and if asked to place the mean line of these varieties, I should say, from long and careful observation, that it would not be far from about yellow, or dark yellow; certainly not below the latter mark. The average colored person is thus about midway between the white and black races. Nor is that all. Twenty years ago the line would have been further back.

The Caucasian blood is prevailing with ever-increasing strength, while the negro blood is declining in proportionate ratio.

West are the causes, and west will be the effect of the segregation.

But it must not be supposed that two southern people are necessarily immortal. If a man is a constipated or dyspeptic, or any suffering from any one of these diseases of the bowels, it is your own fault if you remain ill for Hop Bitters is a sovereign remedy in all such complaints.

If you are waisting away with any form of kidney disease, stop templing Death this moment, and turn for a cure to Hop Bitters.

Objected to Too Many of Them.

From the Lincolnian, Ga., News.

Within the borders of Lincoln county and not over twenty miles from old Lincolnton, there lives a respected citizen who numbers in his family some as pretty daughters as can be found in Dixie. As usual, his house was the rendezvous of the neighborhood gallants, and one favored young man, wond, won and wedded one of the fair ones. Not long since a brother of the proud bridegroom approached and astonished our hero by asking the hand of another one of his daughters. "Good Lord! do you think that I raise my girls to give away to one family? How many more of you want me to give up my girls—any more?" "Yes, sir, I think brother Ed wants one."

Herman Bohnefeld Warned.

MACON, Ga., June 8.—[Special]—Herman Bohnefeld, the principal witness against Johnson, who is being tried for complicity in the Jim Crowe lynching case, received an annoying letter today, purporting to be from the friends of the mob, warning him to be careful how he talked.

THE MOORE MOB.

THE ELOQUENT ADDRESSSES MADE BY EACH SIDE.

Charlie Hartnett's Argument H. W. Patterson's Mission Appeal—Oxford Anderson's Outburst of Mockers—The Case with the Jury—
The Browned Girls' Funeral.

MACON, Ga., June 8.—[Special]—At an early hour this morning the superior court room was crowded with spectators, to witness the conclusion of the trial of W. A. Johnson, charged with complicity in the Moore lynching.

Hon. C. L. Bartlett gave his address yesterday afternoon, and at half past eight today he resumed. His speech was a grand argument in behalf of the accused, and besides appealing to the sympathies of the jurors, he put forth a great deal of sound logic and thoughtful reasoning in behalf of his client.

E. W. Patterson followed him, in one of the most eloquent speeches ever delivered in a Bibb county court. He reviewed the case from its beginning to its tragic ending. He went over the whole line, showing how the feelings of the masses were wrought up by the dark tale of Moore's villainy. He then went on to discuss the case in all its bearings. He argued the case doubtfully, taking the ground, in the first place, that Johnson was not a participant in the lynching, and brought up all the supporting points in the evidence. He then took the ground that were Johnson a participant, that he was actuated by righteous indignation which all men feel when the question of outright virtue is brought before them.

Such was the force of his eloquence that many eyes were dimmed with tears among the disinterested spectators of the trial.

One thing is sure, whether Johnson is acquitted or not, these two young attorneys have added fresh laurels to their brows by their masterly efforts in behalf of the client. They have acquitted themselves nobly.

When Clifford Anderson arose for the state, he spoke on tiptoe. Everybody knew from his general knowledge of the man, that when the spouse speaks of the time when compilation will be incomparable and mortals will differ from that which usually attends a funeral.

"As in Adam all lived, so in Christ shall all be made alive," read she preacher, and then followed it up with that remarkable chapter
when the spouse speaks of the time when
compilation will be incomparable and mortals
will differ from that which usually attends a funeral.

After reading, he applied the text in a manner that was wondrously and touchingly beautiful.

When he knelt in prayer there was no knee that bended not in supplication.

When the service was ended the men habitants of the house acted as pallbearers, and the coffins were placed in the two hearses and a long procession formed to follow the remains of the two dead girls to Rose Hill, where they were buried.

The service was most remarkable in every respect, and Rev. Mr. Winchester showed the holiness and charitable benevolence of his Christian character in a manner most laudable.

He concluded with the benediction of the cross and the words, "Go in peace."

Additional particulars concerning the girls were gleamed by your correspondent from an intimate friend of the deceased.

John C. Hancock Shot Dead by a Young Man.

FORGEVILLE, Ga., June 8.—[Special]—John C. Hancock, an old citizen of Crawford county, was shot dead yesterday about noon afternoon in his field, about seven miles above Knoxville, by Rome Burnett, a nineteen-year old son of Jack Burnett. The elder Burnett and Hancock were in a dispute about hogs, young Burnett being present. After little he went to the house and returning with a double-barrel shotgun, fired at Hancock, killing him at once. This account is obtained from the mail carrier between this place and Knoxville. Burnett had not been arrested when the mail man left this morning, but when the mail was left in search of him.

Clio then went to New York, where she became the mother of a child, who was taken charge of by a benevolent lady. He is now a bright little boy several years of age.

Finally Clio returned to Cleveland and married Johnnie Thorne, a circus juggler, he knowing all of her past career. He carried her off with a circus and mistreated her, and even shot her in the head, it is alleged. She fled to Lexington, Ky., and sought a home there. From there she made the acquaintance of a man named Smith, an assistant teacher. She became, as was supposed, too intimate with him to sue one else, and was brought back home.
From the girls went to the Atheneum in Tennessee, where it is claimed Clio lost her virginity.

Olio then went to New York, where she became

Today Mayor Price received a dispatch from the girls' family, asking if the bodies had been recovered, and if so, if they would be forwarded to their old home for burial.

The people seem to be well-to-do, and willing to bear the expense of removal. The burial had occurred prior to its reception and the city is very indignant over the affair.

Suicide of a Colored Woman.

HAMILTON, Ga., June 8.—[Special]—A party of fishermen near Cat Creek, on the Flint river, found a dead body of a colored woman floating on the water, which was identified as that of Elsey Thomas, living on H. C. Forson's place. She had previously threatened suicide with her sister, and heard her scream and ran after her sister, and saw her last seeing that he had been detected left the girl and made his escape.
Ford is lodged in jail to await the decision of the superior court. The colored people of the city are very indignant over the affair.

Struck by Lightning.

ACWORTH, Ga., June 8.—[Special]—Mrs. John Peabody, Mr. Will Buttall, of Savannah, and Miss Sally Peabody, were united in marriage. Mr. Buttall is engaged in the cotton business in Savannah and is a gentleman of many admirable qualities.

Miss Peabody is one of the most handsome and popular young ladies of the city. The happy couple left on the Georgia Midland train for Warm Springs, Marietta and other points.

The grand jury which adjourned last week found 175 true bills against illegal voters.

It is supposed the only evidence before the jury was the tax collector's defaulter's list, and as this list was made out several days before the voting, and many paid after the defaulter's list was made, very few, if any, convicts will likely be had.

The commencement exercises of the South Georgia College will take place the last of this month, of which a full account will be given you at the time.

The national debt of Mexico is about fifteen dollars per capita. Our national debt is about twenty-five dollars per capita.

EDITOR O'BRIEN appears to have more sense than all the George-McGlynn crowd put together. He is not walking into any traps this late in the day.

FRANK HATTON opposes Brother Blaine because he was at one time rather friendly to the south. Isn't it about time for such weakies as Hatton to retire to the brush?

THE South Carolina editors are seeing the lights in New York. An editor can have a good deal of fun in New York if he has a mind to. We wish our esteemed contemporaries well.

THE Pennsylvania water-pump reported in our news column was about as destructive as a full grown tornado. The fact that it damaged property to the extent of $100,000 will give some idea of its force and fury.

A FRIEND of Judge Allen G. Thurman says that if the noble old Roman receives the nomination for governor he will accept it. Should this happen, the democratic party will score another victory in Ohio.

WHEN the Hon. George Clark accepted the chairmanship of the Texas anti-prohibition committee, the prohibitionists straightway circulated the report that he had received a fee of $50,000 for so doing. It is unnecessary to say that the charge is unsupported by proof.

THE New York Tribune says that there is no legitimate reason for the tremendous advance in coffee. A set of speculators are laying about the short coffee crop. They have increased the cost of the poor man's luxury 200 per cent in one year. The penitentiary is too good for such scoundrels.

In the interests of law and morality Captain Williams, a teetotaler, went to various New York hotels last Sunday and drank wine at his meals. Then he had warrants served on the parties who had accommodated him. The captain expected to be praised for his conduct, but good men everywhere are rising to remark that he has simply made himself infamous.

SEVERAL of the western railroads will insist before the interstate commerce commission that it is proper to discriminate in favor of commercial travelers because they form a distinct class, riding short distances at a time, and accepting tickets which relieve the roads from some part of the liability to which they are subject in the case of other passengers.

THE St. Louis Republican flippantly says: Rev. Samuel Jones last week addressed the people of Tennessee as "two-legged hogs." This week he appeals to them as "pusillanimous skunks," and no one will be more surprised than he if this line of argument does not make them vote for prohibition.

Such talk generally carries the crowd. The Tennesseans were deliriously happy when Sam abused them.

ALMOST simultaneously revelations in London and New York show that the infamous traffic in young girls is carried on to an alarming extent by men and women who pretend to keep employment agencies. If our reformers could be persuaded to see things as they are, they would wake up to the fact that the most widespread and destructive sin of this age is licentiousness.

THE controller of the currency announces that hereafter he will enforce the law which provides for a fine of $100 a day on each national bank that fails to report its condition to the controller when called on, after the expiration of a specified time. A majority of the banks have heretofore ignored the law, but they have been informed that they must comply with the law hereafter.

THE breach between Germany and Russia has been noticeably widened by the news of the latter government forbidding foreigners to acquire estates on the western frontier of Russia. This proclamation is directed at the Germans who have been acquiring lands in Russia in order to evade the recent import duties on iron. Germany may regard the edict as a high-handed measure, but it is mild compared to the treatment which Germany has meted out to the Poles in her borders.

GIRLS are wonderfully sharp. One of the girls at the Packard Institute had the following talk with Henry George:

"I am going to buy that all land was God-given, and for the benefit of all mankind!" "Certainly," replied Mr. George. "Who made the Netherlands then?" pursued his querist. "Was not the land at the bottom of the sea before the Dutch diked it in and brought it under cultivation? Were not they, and the rest of mankind, entitled to the labor of their hands? Was this land God-given or man rescued?"

MR. FRANK HATTON, who is one of those warm republicans that have no need to stand by a stove, has declared war against Brother Blaine. He says he will have none of the plumed knight, and he predicts that Blaine's nomination will lead to the defeat of the republican party. This is true, but precisely the same prediction may be made about any other candidate the republicans could name. An honest and energetic democratic administration that commands itself to the people of the whole country has left the g. o. p. in a bad way.

In his address before the Confederate society at Baltimore the other day, General D. H. Hill said:

I love to hear the philanthropists praise Mr. Lincoln. I wish him well. I remember that he was born in Kentucky, and was first to last, as the Atlantic Monthly truly says, a southern man in all his characteristics. I love to hear them say that George H. Thomas was the stoutest fighter in the union army, for I remember that he was born in Virginia. When the old lady of the old south hears these eulogies upon them, she pushes back her spectacles, that she may have a better view of the eulogists, and says, "There were my children." Then the old lady adds, "I have another son, born in Kentucky, and he is not a steamer, nor did I call him to die on a sour apple tree."

It is intimated that when the American Catholic archbishops meet in Baltimore this summer a pronunciamento will be made on the labor question. The right of laboring men to combine for their common benefit will be conceded, and all such lawful combinations will receive the blessings of the church. But Catholics will be forbidden to take part in boycotts, or other infringements of the rights of citizens, and they will be forbidden to join any organization which practices intimidation, whether of a violent or other character. No Catholic will be permitted to become a member of any order which binds its members to secrecy or blind obedience to the dictates of leaders. Secret pass words may be permitted, but a Catholic must have no secret which cannot be reached by the confessional, if necessary. It will be proposed that a closer relation be brought about between Catholic members of labor organizations and the Catholic clergy. The object of this is to prevent Catholic laboring men from drifting off from the church on account of their association with Protestants, and to keep them from adopting theories which are antagonistic to the church's dogmas. The necessity of this course has been demonstrated clearly of late by the number of Catholics who have, innocently, perhaps, taken up ideas which the church frowns upon and will probably condemn outright in the near future.

LET Atlanta Protect Her Industries

We desire to call attention to a communication which we printed yesterday relative to the extension of the city limits. It seems that a great many manufacturing enterprises, beclouded by special taxes, special licenses, and other evidences of a desire to gather in the city, have been established outside the city limits, and the proposition now is to take in those that may be bled according to modern methods of assessment.

There has been a sort of fiction prevalent amongst us that the policy of the city was to foster and encourage manufactures, and to fill the town with diversified industries. We have organized a manufacturers' association for this purpose, and the supposition has been that the people of the city were anxious to protect and promote these industries.

But the plain truth of the business is that as soon as a manufacturing enterprise is established here, it is called on to pay special licenses and special taxes to such an extent that those who have familiarized themselves with the matter have found it to their interest to establish their enterprises outside the corporate limits.

There is another feature about this taxing business that is worthy of note—namely, that the return of personal property in Atlanta amounted in 1880 to $2,000,000 more than in 1886, as we learn from good authority. What is the trouble? The city has grown steadily, and its population has increased; nevertheless the returns of personal property are two millions less than they were six years ago.

THE trouble with Atlanta is a too rigid taxation of industries. No city can prosper as it should that does not foster and protect its manufactures. We may say that the times have arrived when Atlanta must get down to business. The question of extending the city limits is hardly worth considering, albeit it involves the rights of individuals and of communities. What we need to do is to give our industries both large and small, a chance to live. Let us do away with the oppressive taxation that drives these industries to the suburbs, or to other states.

Journalists in England.

In England it has always been considered well enough for a man of the highest position to be a paid editorial contributor to the great dailies, but the proprietor or the editor of a paper stood on a different footing.

The fact that he was a regular newspaper man did not prevent his recognition as a gentleman, but it has been tacitly understood down to a very recent date that he must not expect any marked degree of royal favor.

Old prejudices, however, are melting away, and it is now stated in official circles that during the jubilee Mr. Walter, of the Times, will be raised to the peerage. Borthwick, the proprietor of the Morning Post, and Lawson, the owner of the Telegraph, will receive baronetcies. Editor Arnold, of the Telegraph, and Editor Buckle, of the Times, will be knighted.

NOT one of the men who have been singled out for promotion will gain anything in real prestige and power by the conferring of these empty honors. There is a possibility that their influence will decline. After all, the people support a paper, and unless a paper is of the people, and for the people, it cannot have much of a hold upon the public.

It is gratifying to see the London journalists receive a merited reward, but there is good ground for the apprehension that they will find their tinselled honors only a delusion and a snare.

It is said that Boston has an extreme love of art. Does this mean that Boston is extremely artistic?

IT is becoming every day more apparent that Mr. Powderly has bit off more than he can chew. He cannot control the unscrupulous boycotters.

MR. THOMAS BAILEY ALDRICH doesn't recognize his own portrait in the newspapers. This is still accounted for. The newspaper print isn't as pretty as it ought to be.

THE controller of the currency announces that hereafter he will enforce the law which provides for a fine of $100 a day on each national bank that fails to report its condition to the controller when called on, after the expiration of a specified time. A majority of the banks have heretofore ignored the law, but they have been informed that they must comply with the law hereafter.

THE breach between Germany and Russia has been noticeably widened by the news of the latter government forbidding foreigners to acquire estates on the western frontier of Russia. This proclamation is use a club except in self-defense, and he must not draw a pistol except in the last extremity when it is absolutely necessary to save his own life.

The citizens of a country ruled by a queen and an aristocracy enjoy personal rights that are denied citizens in this land of freedom? The question is offensive, but it must be answered in the affirmative. In republican America the police interfere with the people in a way that would not be tolerated in her borders.

Do the citizens of a country ruled by a queen and an aristocracy enjoy personal rights that are denied citizens in this land of freedom? The question is offensive, but it must be answered in the affirmative. In republican America the police interfere with the people in a way that would not be tolerated in her borders.

The model policeman preserves order without friction. If he is always resorting to violence to enforce the law he does not understand his business. From this it would pretty clearly appear, that it takes brains to make a good policeman. This is the whole case in a nutshell. Judgment, tact, humanity are needed a hundred times where mere muscle is needed once. There is another very important thing—the policeman should never forget that he is a citizen himself nothing gloomy about the financial outlook.

The editor of the London Times is to be rewarded for his blackguard articles on Parnell with a peregrine. Some honor is too dearly won, and this is one of them.

JOHN SHERMAN seems to think that Louisianians can be caught with sugar bonds. John appears to find the long lost strawberry mark of brotherhood on every fence.

PERSONS AND THINGS.

THE late ex-Vice-President Wheeler contemplated marrying a year or two ago, but was debarred by ill health.

CANON WILBERFORCE is studying the work of prohibition in Maine under the guidance of General Newell.

DUKE PAUL of Mecklenburg-Schwerin, has returned to the Roman Catholic church. The report is officially confirmed.

CHARLES CROCKER, second vice-president of the Southern Pacific railways, says he considers himself about 80 years old.

MRS. JAMES NEILSON, a sister of the late Horace Greeley, is very low with pneumonia at New Brunswick, N. J. She is seventy-nine years old.

W. M. WILSON, the son-in-law of President Greely, denies the report that he recently suffered heavy losses by speculations on the Paris bourse.

JOHN P. ST. JOHN is to stump New York state during the forthcoming prohibition campaign. He left Pittsburgh yesterday for this purpose.

EMPEROR WILLIAM on the advice of his physicians, has decided not to go to Liegnitz, but will go to Eins, probably on the 18th instant, and afterward to Gastein.

IS LANGTRY COMING?

Startling Rumor About the Ex-Husband of the Jersey Lily.

From the New York Truth.

I am quite sure that Mrs. Langtry will be amazed to learn that Mr. Langtry is at this very moment packing his trunks for a flying visit to America. This is a very foolish proceeding, you will say, particularly as he enjoys the income his wife leaves him.

Mr. Wilson has had the pleasure of meeting him at the station, and he has been greatly pleased with him.

GENERAL WILHELM ordered the great hats to be replaced.

"The grenadiers," he said, "right in their shako. Cost what it may, we must hold our own. AR! now boys, forward!"

The grenadiers saved the day at Nagasaki, and the next day the big bear-skin hats could be counted on the field of battle by hundreds.

"One would think there had been a battle of ours here," some one said, with a melancholy smile.

Several days later, on the plains of Melde, the emperor Napoleon III., riding across the field, found that General Auguste, who commanded a battery which was the key to the whole position, had lost his left arm and that his shoulder had been broken by a shot from an Austrian canon.

The general, surrounded by surgeons, was dying beneath a tree on the plain.

The improvement of Mr. Brown was rapid and satisfactory. He said his face as he could see it was red and healthy.

He had been playing cards with his wife.

He appears now, however, that he feels well.

MEASURE FOR MEASURE.

What the Superior and City Courts Did Yesterday.

The superior court met yesterday morning at nine o'clock, Judge Marshall J. Clarke presiding.

In the case of Waldman vs. Bandman, the jury returned a verdict of $5 and interest, for the plaintiff.

The case of Minnie Patton vs. L. Gordon was begun, but will not be concluded before noon today. This is a suit for slander, and the plaintiff claims $5,000. She is represented by M. Mackie, Well & Brandt, attorney for the defendant.

The case of Edward Bostwick filed a bond and was vested with the guardianship of the property of his minor children.

THE BOARD CONCOURS.

What the Board of Aldermen Did at Its Regular Meeting Yesterday.

There was considerable talk in the streets early yesterday about the probable action of the board in regard to the resolution adopted by the council authorizing the sale of $25,000 worth of gas stock for the benefit of the high schools. The general opinion among prominent citizens was that the action of the council would be concurred in.

This opinion proved correct, for at the regular meeting of the board at 11 o'clock the resolution was adopted.

Those who voted to confirm the council's action were Mayor Cooper, Mr. Hemphill and Mr. Clegg.

Those who opposed it were Messrs. Granling and Marcellin. Judge Dorsey was absent.

The resolution authorizing and directing the city tax collector to deduct two per cent from the taxes of those who pay their taxes in June, until the sum of $100,000 shall have been taken in, was concurred in unanimously, as was also the boiler inspector ordinance of Mr. Bell.

To Be Buried Today.

The funeral of Miss Lizzie Bloomfield will take place from the Church of the Immaculate Conception this morning. Although for the past few months her life has been one of suffering and pain, she accepted the will of her Father with that resignation and patience that characterized her entire life. She died at her home in Atlanta, but in neighboring cities, and who sympathized deeply with the family of the deceased. The general services of Miss Bloomfield will be conducted at the church of the Immaculate Conception, at 10 o'clock at the Church of the Immaculate Conception, at the request of the family. The following day, the deceased will have charge of a profusion of floral offerings tendered by her many friends: Mrs. W. B. Martin, Miss Julia Gaffin, Miss Mary Gaffin, Miss Lucy Lynch.

A Parade.

The Governor's Horse Guard will have a full dress parade this afternoon. A large number will respond to "Hoofs and Saddles."

HORSEFOOT'S ACID PHOSPHATE

In Sleeplessness.

Dr. E. L. BARRY, Jerseyville, Ill., says: "I used it in a case of sleeplessness, and it acted like a charm."

A lawn party will be given tonight by the Juvenile Marine's avenue church at the residence of Mr. G. G. Gaffin, corner W. Peachtree and Cox streets. The Atlanta military band will furnish music for the occasion, and a large crowd is expected. All are invited.

CLOSING THE SESSION.ANNUAL CELEBRATION BY THE CLARK UNIVERSITY STUDENTS.

The Commencement Exercises Conducted in the Lord Street A. M. E. Church—an Immense Crowd Present—A Varied and Entertaining Program—The Graduates.

The faculty of Clark university decided that the commencement exercises this year should be conducted in the colored Methodist church, corner of Hunter and Loyd streets, instead of the university.

It was announced that the exercises would begin at 10 o'clock, but an hour before that time the building was crowded with the students of the university and their friends.
